

From: Mike Legeros
Date: March 18, 2009

Folks,

We now have a permanent web site domain, <http://www.raleighfirehistory.org/>. The yearly registration of the domain costs $9 through my web provider. First year's on me!

Two questions for collective consideration:

Question #1 - What should be shown, said, reported, included on this web site? The web site is presently serving as an administrative tool. Housing meeting notes. Listing committee members. But that's just a start.

Question #2 - When should we start sharing this site with the "outside world?" Start sharing now? Wait a little? Wait a little longer than little?

Send your ideas as you have them. I'll compile, and present suggested directions at a later time.

Which Web Site is Which?

For everyone's information, here are some of the web sites that have been associated with RFD history:

<http://www.raleighfirehistory.org>

New address of RFD historical society site.

<http://www.legeros.com/rfdhs>

Old address of RFD historical site. Not linked from any other web site.

<http://www.legeros.com/rfd>

Newsletter supplement site. Contains links to photos featured in quarterly RFD newsletter. Not linked from any other web site.

<http://www.legeros.com/ralwake/raleigh/history>

Unofficial RFD history site. Tons of stuff.

<http://www.legeros.com/ralwake/photos>

Incident and event photos by Lee Wilson and Mike Legeros. Site also occasionally features old photos found by Legeros.

<http://www.legeros.com/ralwake/photos/weblog>

Legeros firefighting blog. Used to share old photos and history bits from RFD and other departments.

[ address hidden in this document ]

Internal RFD historical society site. RFD access only. Used to share old photos, history bits, and historical society happenings. Not publicly accessible.

<http://www.legeros.com/temp/rfd>

Secret web site, used to share old photos with retirees. Same photos as posted to Internal site above. Not linked from any other web site.

Yahoo Groups Reminder

Pease subscribe to the RFDHS distribution list, by sending a blank message to raleighfirehistory-subscribe@yahogroups.com.

This will help reduce or hopefully eliminate individual e-mail addresses in messages we send out.